

PHILLIP M. KRAUSE

Managing Director of Strategic Planning

As Managing Director of Strategic Planning, Phillip Krause manages Ringler's key strategic partner relationships and assists with strategic business plans. He also supports national marketing efforts and is an important corporate resource to all Ringler Consultants. As a Settlement Planning Specialist, Phil worked on a variety of cases, including the NFL Concussion Settlement, Aviation Losses, Medical Malpractice, Product Liability, Employment and Contract Disputes, Class Action and Mass Torts. Prior to joining Ringler, Phil served as a Portfolio Analyst at Morgan Stanley and as a Financial Planner at American Express Financial Advisors, Ameriprise Financial and Raymond James Financial Services. A Subject Matter Expert in the Financial Services Industry, Phil serves as a Council Member to the Gerson Lehrman Group and was a FINRA Arbitrator and Contract Negotiator for the City of Miami FOP Lodge 20. A graduate of Rhodes College, Phil attended the University of Miami where he received an Executive CFP® Certificate. He also graduated from the Executive Financial Management Program at Cornell University and the Executive Program on Negotiation and Leadership at Harvard Law School. He received his CLMP from Columbia Law School's Litigation Management Institute and his CSSC from the National Structured Settlement Trade Association.

